
Joao's cookbook

Release 0.3.0

Joao, jomigo96@yahoo.com

Aug 18, 2025

Contents:

1	Recipes	4
1.1	Açorda (Stale bread stew)	4
1.2	Agedashi Tofu	5
1.3	Alho francês à Brás	6
1.4	Arroz de peixe (fish rice porridge)	7
1.5	Carbonara	8
1.6	Ceviche	9
1.7	Chickpea curry	10
1.8	Cold soba and vegetables	11
1.9	Egg fried rice	12
1.10	Feijoada branca	13
1.11	Green lentil curry	14
1.12	Improved Shin ramen	15
1.13	Japanese curry	16
1.14	Japanese curry pasta	17
1.15	Larb	18
1.16	Lasagna	19
1.17	Lime chicken	21
1.18	Omurice	22
1.19	Onigiri	23
1.20	Paella	24
1.21	Panados (Schnitzel)	25
1.22	Pasta al limone	26
1.23	Peixe ao sal	27
1.24	Roasted chicken with potatoes	28
1.25	Shakshuka	29
1.26	Spicy fish	30
1.27	Stuffed eggplant	31
1.28	Taiwanese salmon basil dish	32
1.29	Tea egg	33
1.30	Tortilla de patatas	34
1.31	Tuna pasta v1	35
1.32	Tuna pasta v2	36
1.33	Tuna pasta v3	37
1.34	Vegetarian Chilli	38
2	Sides	39
2.1	Couscous	39
2.2	Esparregado (spinach pate)	40
2.3	Pasta	41
2.4	Plain rice	42
2.5	Quinoa	43
2.6	Dry fried rice	44
2.7	Whole grain rice	45

3	Deserts	46
3.1	Dango	46
4	Glossary	47
5	References	51
	References	51
	Index	52

This is a catalogue of the stuff I know how to cook. No precise ammounts, and recipes are meant for a single serving unless otherwise mentioned. The ingredients don't include common seasonings, oil, etc.

1 Recipes

1.1 Açorda (Stale bread stew)

Medium, One pot

Ingredients

- Stale Bread, any fresh wheat bread that is a day old, but never sweet kinds
- Garlic
- Cilantro
- Egg

Any toppings, optional in any combination

- Ripe Tomato
- Shrimp, or another kind of soft seafood cut into small pieces, like leftover cod

Steps

Slice the bread into bite sized pieces, place into a bowl and pour some water to soak it. It should not be submerged, but there should be a little water in the bottom.

Finely chop the garlic, and place in a large pot with high quality olive oil. Fry until fragrant.

If using tomato, remove the skin, dice, and add to the pot, cooking in low heat until it starts to thicken.

Add the bread, half the herbs, and the remaining toppings. Season with a bit of salt (remember the bread doesn't need any), and a splash of acidity, like lemon juice or vinegar.

Stir it for around 5 minutes, waiting for everything to form into a paste, and adding water as necessary.

Beat an egg yolk. Turn off the heat and add the egg and the rest of the herbs, mixing quickly.

Tip

Another alternative to mixing in the egg is to serve a poached egg on top.

1.2 Agedashi Tofu

My favorite to get at an izakaya.

Medium, Vegetarian

Source: Cooking with Dog [4]

Ingredients

- Firm Tofu
- Potato starch, replaceable with corn starch or similar
- Dashi
- Soy Sauce
- Mirin
- Green Onion

Steps

For the sauce

Add two tablespoons of mirin to a pot, and boil it for a couple of minutes to evaporate the alcohol. Add around 300ml of dashi stock, or dashi powder and water, two tablespoons of soy sauce, and bring it to a boil. Take it off the heat while waiting for the tofu.

For the tofu

Dry the tofu thoroughly, by either freezing it or putting it under a weight for a while. Cut it into large pieces, like 6 for a whole block. Dry it thoroughly with paper towels.

Coat the tofu in the starch on all sides and remove any excess. Deep fry it in very hot oil until it is light brown all around.

Warning

It's full of water, don't burn yourself.

Take it out and let it drain on a wire rack or paper towels.

Serve in a bowl half filled with sauce, and garnish with the green part of a green onion. Other common toppings are daikon radish and bonito flakes.

1.3 Alho francês à Brás

Medium, One Pot, Leftovers, Vegetarian

A vegetarian version of a very popular Portuguese dish, replacing cod with leek.

Ingredients

- Batata-palha (straw potato), chips that are shaped like thin sticks, usually only available in Portuguese stores
- Parsley
- A very large Leek
- 1 Egg per serving.
- Olives, black ones without the pit, but any kind works

Steps

Chop the leek, cutting it in half longitudinally then into 5mm strips across. Fry it in olive oil until mostly soft.

Warning

The potato chips are usually very salty and greasy. Don't add any salt, and be conservative with the oil.

Add the potatoes. Mix thoroughly and wait for the potatoes to soften up a bit. You may need to add some liquid depending on how much moisture there is (say, a tablespoon of water). Add pepper and chopped parsley leaves, and some olives.

Turn off the heat, add the beat eggs and mix quickly, letting the residual heat cook the eggs. It should still have a runny consistency.

Tip

If saving leftovers, don't add the egg. Do the last step the next day.

1.4 Arroz de peixe (fish rice porridge)

Easy, One Pot, Leftovers

Source: My mom.

Ingredients

- Rice
- Any white Fish
- Onion and Garlic
- Cilantro and/or Parsley
- Tomato

Steps

Thinly dice onions and fry in olive oil. After a few minutes, add chopped garlic. After a minute, add the diced tomato, preferably without skin. It can be replaced with tomato paste.

Let it simmer for 10 minutes, adding a bit of water or white wine as needed. Add half the herbs, season with pepper, salt, optionally a spicy sauce and fish sauce. Add the rice, and 2.5 parts water. You may need to keep adding a bit more water, the final consistency should be liquidly and the rice firm.

When the rice is about 5 minutes from cooked, add the sliced fish, it's easier to cut while frozen into 5mm slices. Add the rest of the herbs.

1.5 Carbonara

Warning

Do not read if you are Italian.

Easy

Ingredients

- Pasta
- Bacon, or another fatty, preserved pork cut
- Egg
- Parmesan
- Garlic, optional

Steps

Boil the pasta separately while working on the next steps. Cut the bacon into bite sized pieces and fry it on a large frying pan, starting it cold. Add a little water once it starts sizzling to render out some fat, and add a little more olive oil if it's still too dry, or drain out the fat if it is too much. Optionally, add a whole garlic clove.

Prepare the sauce on a bowl, consisting of one egg, a bit of olive oil, shredded parmesan, and a lot of black pepper. Mix well with a fork. If making for more than one person, try use 2 egg yolks to 1 full egg of a ratio, but don't bother if it's just for one person.

When the pasta is al dente, drain it, reserving a bit of the water. Add the pasta to the slightly crispy bacon, and turn off the heat. Carefully add the sauce and mix immediately. You need to be careful to not cook the eggs too much, make sure it has cooled a bit. Add a bit of the pasta water, and serve once the consistency is at the desired level.

1.6 Ceviche

Easy, One Pot

Ingredients

- Sashimi-grade Fish.
- 2 limes
- Red onion
- Cilantro

Optional toppings:

- Tomato
- Avocado
- Jalapeño

Steps

For the toppings, chop everything into bite-sized pieces.

Cut the fish into 2cm pieces, dice the onion and cilantro, and place them into a glass container. Mix with salt, olive oil, and plenty of lime juice. Cover, and let it "cook" in the fridge for 5 to 10 minutes.

Mix with the rest of the toppings and serve immediately.

Note

If the toppings are reasonably dry (i.e. no fresh tomato), then you can prepare everything together. Otherwise, it can dilute the acid.

It works well with rice, bread, tortilla.

Tip

For keeping as leftovers, don't add the lime juice, do that before eating.

1.7 Chickpea curry

Medium, Leftovers, Freezes, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Pre-cooked chickpeas, preferably still al dente
- Onion
- Garlic
- Ginger
- Coconut milk, around 100ml for each 500g of chickpeas

Standard Indian curry spices. A store bought mix is fine, but you may supplement it with the following:

- Cinnamon, just a small piece of bark
- Star anise, same
- Cumin seeds
- Coriander seeds
- Black pepper corns
- A source of vegan umami. I use dry shiitake mushroom, Vegemite or yeast extract also work.

Steps

Prepare the vegetables, dicing the onion and garlic into medium pieces, and the ginger into small ones. Grind all the spices with a mortar and pestle, except the mushroom.

Take a large pot and fry the ginger, onion and garlic in olive oil, in this order, adding a bit of salt to the onion. Add 80% of the spices and toast them. Add a small dollop of tomato paste and mix it vigorously to avoid burning.

Add the chickpeas and water, but do not submerge everything. Adjust the salt, and add the whole mushroom.

Simmer until the desired consistency is reached. Add the coconut milk and the rest of the spices. Simmer until it thickens a bit, and discard the mushroom. Serve over plain rice.

1.8 Cold soba and vegetables

Easy, Vegetarian, One pot

Source: Jingwen

Ingredients

- Soba noodles
- An assortment of vegetables, many work well:
 - Carrot
 - Cucumber
 - Spinach
 - Snow peas
- 1 Egg, optional

For the sauce:

- 1 or 2 cloves of Garlic
- Honey
- Soy sauce
- Vinegar, preferably the Chinese black kind
- Sesame seeds, white is best
- Chinese BBQ chilly flakes, if you can find those

Steps

Chop the vegetables into thin strips. Blanch the spinach, snow peas, or other ones that are not nice to eat raw.

Fry the egg, or prepare any other protein of your choice separately.

For the sauce, mince the garlic very thinly. Add it to a bowl with 2-3 table spoons of light soy sauce, a table spoon of honey, half a table spoon of vinegar, half a table spoon of some neutral oil, some chilly flakes and the sesame seeds. Mix well.

Boil the soba according to the package instructions, usually 4 minutes. Drain it, then run it under cold water in a colander until it feels cold.

Assemble your bowl, place the soba, vegetables around, egg in the center, and drip the sauce on top. Enjoy your garlic breath afterwards.

1.9 Egg fried rice

Medium, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- 2 or 3 Eggs
- Leftover Rice, brown is ok
- Some kind of Onion
- Any vegetable, like peas of carrots

Steps

Add a tablespoon of oil to a non-stick frying pan and turn the heat to high. Crack in the eggs, and quickly stir them with chopsticks, until mostly but not fully scrambled. Fry on high until starting to brown, then set aside and split into chunks with a spatula or knife.

Add a bit more oil, a good one here is coconut oil, and fry the thinly chopped onion, and any other aromatic vegetables. When it starts to brown, toss in the rice and fry on high for a few minutes. Lower the heat and add any vegetable that needs cooking.

Season with light soy sauce, pepper, chilly flakes if you want it spicy, and a pinch of sugar. Add back the egg and anything that doesn't need cooking (like frozen peas).

1.10 Feijoada branca

Brazilian style white bean stew

Medium, Leftovers, Freezes

Source: Silvana Tinelli [6]

Ingredients

- Pork, cut into small pieces, and optionally a combination of fatty or bony parts, chouriço, or bacon for flavor.
- Onion
- Garlic
- Tomato
- White beans

Steps

If using dried beans, pre-soak them overnight, then boil in lightly salted water until al dente. Depending on the type of beans, usually 45 minutes.

Sweat diced onion in olive oil for a few minutes, then add minced garlic. Optionally, also some sliced chilly pepper. Throw in the pork and turn the heat to high, until all grey. Add a bit of tomato paste and/or the diced tomato, continue frying, then de-glaze with water or stock.

Season it with salt, pepper, thyme, parsley, and a whole chunk of star anise that you must fish-out later. Simmer for 30 minutes.

Add the beans back, and continue simmering until the bean texture is up to your liking. Splash a bit of vinegar at the end.

Tip

The liquid will thicken substantially when you take it off the heat.

Serve with white rice.

1.11 Green lentil curry

This is very similar to Chickpea curry, but uses more coconut milk and cooks the lentils in place.

Medium, Leftovers, Freezes, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Green lentils, dried.
- Onion
- Garlic
- Ginger
- Coconut milk, around 300ml for each 500g of dry lentils.

Standard Indian curry spices. A store bought mix is fine, but you may supplement it with the following:

- Cinnamon, just a small piece of bark
- Star anise, same
- Cumin seeds
- Coriander seeds
- Black pepper corns
- A source of vegan umami. I use dry shiitake mushroom, Vegemite or yeast extract also work.

Steps

Prepare the vegetables, dicing the onion and garlic into medium pieces, and the ginger into small ones. Grind all the spices with a mortar and pestle, except the mushroom.

Take a large pot and fry the ginger, onion and garlic in olive oil, in this order, adding a bit of salt to the onion. Add 80% of the spices and toast them. Add a small dollop of tomato paste and mix it vigorously to avoid burning.

Add the lentils, washed, and twice as much water. Adjust the salt, add the whole mushroom, and simmer for at least 25 minutes, until the lentils are fully cooked. In the last 5 minutes, add the coconut milk and the rest of the spices.

Simmer until it thickens a bit, and discard the mushroom. Serve over plain rice.

1.12 Improved Shin ramen

Easy, One Pot, Vegetarian

Source: Jingwen and loosely FutureCanoe [5].

Ingredients

- Shin ramen packet
- Tomato
- Green onion
- Bok choy, or another kind of cabbage
- Egg

Steps

Using a large frying pan and a bit of vegetable oil, fry the white part of a green onion and a diced tomato, preferably without skin. Add the dry shin ramen seasoning packet, and keep frying until the tomato falls apart, adding a bit of water if necessary.

Add water and the white part of the cabbage cut into bite sized pieces, and boil for two minutes. Optionally, further season with a tablespoon of soy sauce and half a tablespoon of Chinese black vinegar.

Add the dry noodles. Keep pressing them down until they are all submerged in the liquid. Make a dent and crack in an egg. Distribute the shin ramen vegetable packet. Let the egg cook, you may cover with a lid to steam it.

Note

You may also fry the egg separately instead of poaching it. There's also a lot of flexibility for adding other kinds of vegetables, even ground meat or tofu.

At the last minute, submerge the green cabbage leaves. Dress with the green part of the green onion, and serve.

1.13 Japanese curry

A more sane Japanese curry pasta.

Medium, Leftovers

Ingredients

- Chicken wings
- Onion
- Carrot
- Potato
- Mushroom
- Curry cube mix

Steps

Cut the vegetables, except the onion, into medium sized pieces and boil until soft.

On a stainless steel pot or pan, place the chicken skin side down with a bit of vegetable oil. Fry in medium high heat without moving. Let it form a brown crust, until it unsticks on its own.

Remove the chicken, let the pot cool a bit, then add onions cut into half moon slices, and fry for a few minutes. De-glaze with water, add back the chicken, the boiled vegetables, and the curry cube broken into chunks. Add a bit of salt if necessary, pepper, optionally chilli powder, and let it boil on low heat for 10 minutes.

Serve with plain rice.

1.14 Japanese curry pasta

Warning

Blasphemous

Easy, One Pot, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Soft Tofu (not silken)
- Pasta, penne or fusilli
- Garlic
- Curry cube mix

For the vegetables, there are a lot of possibilities, I usually use a combination of:

- Carrot
- Green beans
- Potato
- Mushroom

Steps

Cut all the vegetables and tofu into medium sized pieces.

Start boiling the pasta, but use less salt than usual. Any hard vegetables — like the carrots, potatoes, and green beans — can be boiled together in the pasta water. Add a whole crushed garlic clove too. Boil for around 2 minutes less than the pasta package says.

Drain some water, leave around 2cm in the bottom. Add the rest of the vegetables and the curry cube, cut into small chunks to help it dissolve. Keep mixing until all the curry is dissolved, adding water as necessary. Boil in low heat until all the vegetables are soft. It's ok if the pasta is overcooked.

Optionally, add a tiny bit of dark soy sauce, miso paste, and chilly flakes.

Add the tofu and mix very carefully, then let it get hot for a couple of minutes and serve.

1.15 Larb

Hard, Leftovers

Source: Binging with Babish [2]

Ingredients

- Minced pork
- 1 large Onion
- Rice
- 1 Lime
- Lettuce
- Cilantro, optional

Steps

On a dry frying pan, toast some rice until fully brown, then set it aside to cool. Then, grind it to a powder using a wand or a mortar and pestle. It should not be too fine, just enough for it to not get stuck in your teeth.

Start cooking plain white rice.

Fry the minced pork in some vegetable oil. A stainless steel frying pan is recommended. Break it apart very well, and season it liberally with salt. There's no need to brown the meat too much, the flavour will come from the toasted rice.

When fully cooked, add all the seasonings: the toasted rice, a lot of chilly powder, pepper, optionally a bit of cumin and coriander seeds. Stir it for a couple of minutes.

Turn the heat to a minimum and add the diced onion, the lime juice, and the cilantro. Combine everything for a few minutes, until all the water evaporates, the onion should be pretty raw.

Serve on top of lettuce leaves, such that you can grab and eat it like a taco, and rice on the side.

1.16 Lasagna

Hard, Leftovers

Ingredients

- Dry lasagna pasta sheets
- Shredded cheese
- An oven casserole shaped more or less like the pasta

For the meat sauce

- Ground Beef. Chicken is actually ok too.
- Onion
- Garlic
- A full jar of Tomato pulp, or 3-4 real tomatoes

For the béchamel

Get some pre-made at the supermarket. If you want to make your own, follow a standard recipe using

- Milk
- Flour
- Butter
- Nutmeg

Steps

For the meat sauce

If using beef, fry it in a hot stainless steel pot with some olive oil, trying to get some color. Add the diced onion and garlic towards the end, and fry until most of the liquid evaporates.

Then, deglaze with a bit of white wine, add the tomato, seasonings (black pepper, salt, oregano), and simmer for about 30 minutes. Get it quite thick, breaking apart the meat as much as possible.

If using chicken, fry the onions first, then add the chicken.

Assembling

If you have to, cut the lasagna sheets in a way that they fit exactly into your casserole, maybe two side-by-side. Soak them in warm water while you prepare the rest.

Assemble the lasagna like pasta - meat sauce - pasta - béchamel and cheese - pasta - etc. The last layer should be cheese.

Cover the casserole with aluminum foil, and bake at 190°C for 45 minutes. For the last 10 minutes, remove the cover and turn on the oven fan.

Tip

You can freeze the whole casserole, and reheat it in the oven again.

1.17 Lime chicken

Medium

A chicken steak to pair with any side, for sandwiches, or as taco filling

Source: Binging with Babish [1]

Ingredients

- Chicken breast
- Garlic
- One or two Limes
- Olive oil
- Salt and a pinch of sugar

Grounded seasonings:

- Black pepper
- Cayenne pepper
- Smoked paprika
- Cumin
- Dried oregano

Steps

Butterfly the chicken into thin steaks. You can pound it too, but it's unnecessary.

Juice the limes, chop the garlic, and prepare the marinade with all the listed ingredients. Throw everything into a zip bag and let it set in the fridge for 1-4 hours.

Drain the excess sauce, and fry in a very hot pan with a little oil, until it just starts to brown on each side.

1.18 Omurice

Easy, Vegetarian.

Ingredients

- 2 or 3 Eggs
- Leftover Rice, brown is ok
- Ketchup, optionally mayo, yakisoba sauce

Steps

Whisk the eggs with a bit of salt. Heat a non-stick pan and add a bit of olive oil, wiping with some kitchen paper. Pour the eggs.

When it sort of holds its shape, add rice to one side of it, some ketchup, and any other fillings. Fold the other half of the pancake over it. Turn the heat to high and cook both sides until a bit brown.

Serve with mayo and yakisoba sauce over it.

Notes

Onion, spinach, and ricotta are some possible fillings that work well.

1.19 Onigiri

Medium, Leftovers

Source: Taiji's kitchen [9]

Ingredients

- Rice, a good replacement for the specific Japanese kind is risotto rice
- Nori sheets

Fillings

One option is plain onigiri with salt on the outside.

For fillings, use some kind of fish and a thick sauce. The classic is tuna - mayo.

Some other options:

- Seared Salmon and siracha
- Cooked Salmon and kimchi
- Seaweed in soy sauce is my favorite from the combini

Steps

Cook the rice with no salt, according to the package instructions. Lay it flat on a plate to completely cool and dry a bit.

Prepare the fillings and get a bowl of water and a bowl of salt.

Wet your hands to prevent sticking when grabbing the rice. Form the rice balls with the filling, check [9] for the technique, or use a special onigiri mold.

Optionally, rub a bit of salt on the outside. Not optional if making plain onigiri.

If the seaweed comes in a sealed bag, use it to wrap the onigiri just before eating in order to preserve the crunchiness.

1.20 Paella

Warning

Do not read if you are Spanish.

Hard, One pot

More like arroz con cosas

Ingredients

- Paprika to replace saffron. Or saffron if you are rich.
- Rice, risotto works best
- Red Bell pepper
- Optionally, Green beans or Peas
- A large Onion
- Garlic
- Some meat, dark chicken with the skin is best, or shrimp.

Steps

On a large frying pan, sear the chicken skin side down on high heat, until there is a good amount of browning. Set it aside.

Dice the onion, garlic, and bell pepper, and fry them in the meat fat, adding a generous splash of olive oil too. De-glaze with some white wine or beer (or water).

Add the rice and about 3 parts of water and stir well. Season with salt, black pepper, the paprika, and optionally with smoked paprika, chilly powder, and a bit of sugar.

Cook for about 20 minutes until the rice is done. Add the meat back about 5 minutes from done, and the green vegetables also a few minutes before, depending on how much cooking they need. You may need to add a lot more water depending on the kind of rice you use.

Turn the heat to high, and do not mix anymore. The goal is to slightly burn the bottom layer of rice, but this can be very hard. You are safe while there is a lot of steam coming out, but afterwards use your nose.

Take it off the heat and let it rest 10 minutes before serving.

1.21 Panados (Schnitzel)

Medium, Leftovers, Freezes

Ingredients

- Pork, lean part cut into thin steaks. It's possible to use a meat hammer
- Egg
- Flour
- Bread crumbs
- Lemon

Steps

Prepare the standard breading setup, with flour, bread crumbs and a beat egg in 3 bowls.

Season the meat with salt. Coat it with flour, egg, then bread crumbs in this order.

Tip

Use one hand for the dry parts and another for the wet part.

Deep fry it in vegetable oil until golden, or, more practical, pan fry it on both sides with plenty of oil. Lay it to rest on a wire rack or kitchen towels.

Squeeze some lemon juice on top and serve.

It lasts in the fridge for a week, goes well in sandwiches or with some tomato rice. For freezing, the best option is to freeze it before frying, but you may also fry twice.

1.22 Pasta al limone

Easy, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Garlic
- Pasta. Since it's the main character, use some good quality one with a rough texture
- Half a Lemon
- Parmesan, optionally

Steps

Boil the pasta separately, until al dente.

Chop the garlic very thinly, and put into a pan together with a few bits of lemon zest and olive oil. Fry until fragrant.

Add in the drained pasta and the lemon juice, stirring until most of it is evaporated or absorbed into the sauce. Add black pepper and parmesan to taste.

1.23 Peixe ao sal

Fish baked in salt

Medium, One Pot (technically)

Source: Eduardo

Ingredients

- A medium to big fresh, whole Fish. Something like snook, bream, or flounder. My preferred one is dourada, "gilt-head bream".
- 1 or 2 Kg of coarse salt

Steps

Take a fish and place it on an oven tray, completely covered in salt on all sides. Really, like a 0.5cm layer all around, you should not be able to see any of the fish. Press it lightly.

Pre-heat the oven at 200°C and bake for about half an hour. Yes, that's it, just don't eat the skin.

1.24 Roasted chicken with potatoes

Easy, Leftovers, One pot

Ingredients

- Chicken, dark meat pieces like wings, thighs, drumsticks
- Onion
- Potatoes, the small round ones are preferable

Steps

Slice the onion into circles, and place in the bottom of an oven tray. Add the potatoes, skin on, cutting into ~5cm pieces if using large ones.

Season the chicken with salt and pepper, and place skin down in the tray. Drizzle some olive oil and add some fresh herbs if desired. Bake at 200C for 15 minutes.

Flip things around, this time leaving the skin up. Add some salt to the potatoes at this point.

Bake until the skin is crispy, around half an hour.

Serve with rice, if you don't have enough potatoes, using the roast liquid as sauce.

Notes

You may add any other vegetables as well, just don't overcook them. Sweet pepper, asparagus or brussel sprouts work well, and carrots can replace some of the potatoes.

1.25 Shakshuka

Easy, Leftovers, Vegetarian

Source: Binging with Babish [3]

Ingredients

- Onion
- Garlic
- A large can of tomatoes
- 2 eggs per serving
- Red bell pepper, optional
- Cilantro, optional

Steps

Use a large stainless steel frying pan, dice the onions and fry in olive oil with a pinch of salt, until very soft. Lower the heat and add some minced garlic, combine for 2 minutes.

Add the can of tomatoes, a splash of white wine, salt and pepper, let it simmer for at least 10 minutes. Split the tomatoes a bit if they are too big, but don't turn it into a mush. The essential spices are cumin, paprika (smoked ok), and cayenne pepper, use a generous amount.

Note

It's possible to add more vegetables, red bell pepper being the most traditional. Some kinds of squash, zucchini or even brussel sprouts are also possible.

Make a dimple in the sauce and crack in the eggs. Add the herbs on top and cover with a lid, until the whites are almost fully set, it will finish cooking as you prepare to serve.

I recommend to have it with Couscous.

1.26 Spicy fish

At the time of writing, I haven't made this one in a few years so it could be way off.

Medium

Ingredients

- White fish
- Garlic
- Ginger
- Mandioca flour
- A tablespoon of Doubanjiang
- Dried chillies

Steps

Cut the fish into thin slices. It's easier if it's a bit frozen.

Marinate it with white pepper, minced ginger, cooking wine, and some mandioca flour.

Get a small pan, fry the Doubanjiang and garlic for a few minutes. Add a dollop of tomato paste, then water until you have a couple of centimeters.

Chop the chillies, add them to a bowl, and optionally you can add Sichuan pepper corns too. Get some very hot oil and pour it into the bowl.

Note

You can skip this step altogether and just add the chillies to the broth. Or, fry them for a couple minutes on a different pan.

Add the fish to the broth, and simmer for a couple of minutes. Add the chilly with the oil on top, and eat it hot-pot-style with some rice.

1.27 Stuffed eggplant

Medium, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Large Eggplant
- Onion
- Tomato
- Cheese, melty kind like Gruyère or Cheddar, or just pre-shredded.

Steps

Slice the eggplant in half, and scoop out the interior. Bake the outside part in the oven at 180C for about 10 minutes. Thinly dice onions and fry in olive oil. After a few minutes, add the eggplant insides. After a few minutes, add the diced tomato, preferably without skin. Season with salt, black pepper, oregano. When everything is soft, smash the bigger pieces with the bottom of a glass, or use a mortar and pestle. Fill the eggplant with this paste, mixing it with some cheese. The top layer should be cheese, and garnished with more oregano. Bake until the cheese is browning.

Notes

You can add any shredded leftover meat to the frying pan. Be careful to not use too much stuff, or it won't fit into the eggplant shell.

1.28 Taiwanese salmon basil dish

Medium

Source: Jingwen

Ingredients

- Salmon
- Rice alcohol. It can be replaced with mirin, in which case use less sugar.
- Cherry tomato
- Basil
- Mushroom
- Green onion
- Garlic
- Optionally, Pickled chilli peppers, or dried flakes, aiming for low heat.
- Optionally, Kombu powder or Dashi

Steps

Cut the salmon into bite sized cubes, and marinate it with salt and rice alcohol for at least 10 minutes. Fry it on high heat for a few minutes until cooked through, then set aside.

Cut the mushroom into cubes, then fry it (in the same oil) together with minced garlic, the white part of a green onion, and the chilli peppers.

Cut the tomato in halves or quarters, and chop the basil a bit. Add everything back to the pan and lower the heat. Season with a tablespoon of soy sauce, the kombu, and salt and sugar to taste. Cook for no more than 2 minutes, then serve with white rice.

1.29 Tea egg

Easy, Leftovers

Source: Souped Up Recipes [7]

Ingredients

- 6-10 eggs Eggs
- 2-3 black teabags, or 10g of leaves
- Two tablespoons of dark Soy sauce, but any kind is fine
- Two tablespoons of sugar Sugar
- Salt to taste, I add no salt

Aromatics:

- One big slice of ginger
- Two cloves of garlic

Spices:

- 3 pieces of Star anise
- 1 stalk of Cinnamon
- Sichuan peppercorns
- Fennel seeds

Steps

Get a large pot of boiling water, add the eggs and boil for 5 minutes. Immediately remove the eggs to a cold bath. Add all of the rest of the ingredients back to the pot and simmer.

Smack the eggs with the blunt side of a spoon, forming cracks all around. Add them back to the pot, and simmer for 30 minutes.

Cut the heat, and leave it steeping overnight, then peel the eggs and fridge them.

Note

The eggs can be simmered basically indefinitely, go crazy.

1.30 Tortilla de patatas

Warning

Do not read if you are Spanish.

Easy, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- 2 or 3 Potatoes
- 1 medium Onion
- 2 or 3 Eggs

Steps

Slice the potatoes into circles, and fry them both sides in a large non-stick frying pan, using half olive oil half vegetable oil. Use only as much oil as necessary to fully coat the potatoes.

Lower the heat and add onion, cut into half moon shapes. Add salt and 4-spice.

Whisk the eggs in a bowl. Optionally, add a bit of baking powder.

When the onions are turning brown, shape everything into a pancake shape, covering as much of the frying pan bottom as possible, then pour the eggs. When the bottom of the eggs are set, add a splash of water and cover the frying pan with a lid of tin foil, and wait around 5 minutes for the eggs to be fully cooked.

Add a bit more 4-spice and serve.

Notes

You may add some blanched spinach together with the eggs.

1.31 Tuna pasta v1

Possibly my number 1 cooked dish, featured every saturday lunch during uni.

Easy

Ingredients

- Canned tuna
- Onion
- Garlic
- Tomato pulp, alternatively real, ripe Tomato, or canned
- Pasta

Steps

Boil the pasta separately.

Dice onions and fry in olive oil, with a pinch of salt. When all soft, add garlic and fry for a minute. Add the tomato pulp or diced tomato.

Let it simmer for up to half an hour, and a minimum of 5 minutes. Keep it reasonably moist with white wine or pasta water. Season with pepper and dried oregano.

Two minutes before ready, add the drained tuna, and break it into small chunks, though not completely shredded. Add the pasta to the sauce, using a bit of the pasta water if necessary to keep the sauce a bit liquidy. Splash a little more olive oil and serve.

1.32 Tuna pasta v2

Another tuna pasta variant, with a stronger garlic flavor and a bit of maillard.

Easy

Source: Eduardo

Ingredients

- Canned tuna
- Garlic
- Tomato pulp, alternatively real, ripe Tomato, or canned
- Pasta

Steps

Boil the pasta separately.

Dice 2 to 3 cloves of garlic, and fry it in olive oil. Add the drained tuna, and turn up the heat. The goal is to brown the tuna a bit, but being careful not to burn the garlic. Season with a lot of black pepper.

Add the tomato pulp or diced tomato, and simmer for 5 minutes until relatively thick. Season with salt, pepper and dried oregano.

Serve the sauce over pasta. Top with a bit more olive oil and oregano.

1.33 Tuna pasta v3

Very similar to Tuna pasta v1, but with more seasoning.

Easy

Ingredients

- Canned tuna
- Onion
- Garlic
- Chilli pepper
- Tomato
- Pasta

Steps

Boil the pasta separately.

Dice onions and chillies, and fry in olive oil with a pinch of salt. When all soft, add garlic and fry for a minute. Add the canned tuna and fry in high heat until all the moisture is gone.

Optionally, add a bit of tomato paste, mixing well to get a bit of that sugar browning while it is dry. Add the diced tomato. Season with black pepper, smoked paprika, a bit of fish sauce, chilli powder if you are feeling brave. Let it simmer for up to half an hour, and a minimum of 5 minutes.

Keep it reasonably moist with pasta water. Alternatively, you can replace it with a "tea" of fennel seeds. Also at this stage you may need to add sugar to balance the tomato acidity.

Combine the pasta with the sauce, or serve the sauce over pasta, both work.

1.34 Vegetarian Chilli

My classic meal prep choice.

Easy, Leftovers, Freezes, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- One large can of black beans
- One medium can of small red beans. Kidney beans are fine
- One large can of Tomatoes
- Onion
- Garlic
- Ginger

Hint

Fresh or dry beans are possible, just prepare them beforehand.

Steps

Take a large pot and fry the ginger, onion and garlic in olive oil, diced into medium pieces. Add the whole can of tomatoes. Season with salt, a bay leaf, a couple pieces of star anise, smoked paprika, a bit of oregano, chilli powder, and a bit of white wine. Let it simmer for 5 minutes.

Rinse the beans thoroughly and add them to the pot. Add water to just cover the beans and cook for up to 30 minutes.

Take out 20% of the stew and smash the beans open, then pour it back in. Using the bottom of a glass on the pot directly is fine, just be careful to not overdo it. Adjust the seasoning, it should be quite spicy. Fish out the star anise, and splash a bit of vinegar.

Serve as is with some soft cheese on top, or over rice or quinoa.

Tip

Before reheating, add a bit of water.

2 Sides

2.1 Couscous

Ingredients

- Couscous

Steps

Boil a kettle. In a pot, put 1 part boiling water, a bit of salt, and a splash of olive oil. Do not place the pot on the stove. Put 1 part couscous and cover.

It's ready in 5 minutes, fluff it with a fork.

2.2 Esparregado (spinach pate)

Medium, One pot, Vegetarian

Ingredients

- Spinach, frozen is perfect. There's also a pre-prepared base available in Portuguese stores
- Garlic
- Milk, vegetable is more than fine
- Tapioca flour, or another flour
- Lemon, optional

Steps

If using raw spinach, blanch it for a minute, drain it, then chop it very thinly.

Finely chop garlic and fry in some olive oil until fragrant. Add the spinach, milk to almost submerge it, and cook until there is no liquid milk visible anymore.

Meanwhile, season with pepper, lemon zest and juice (if using) or vinegar.

Add around two tablespoons of tapioca flour, mixing well. Adjust with olive oil and water to get the right consistency, it should be a wet paste that's easy to eat with a fork.

2.3 Pasta

My number one cooked item.

Ingredients

- Pasta

Steps

Boil water on a pot and add a lot of salt, around 10 grams per liter. Throw the pasta in, and let it boil according to the time the package says, stirring it for the first 3 minutes. Drain it and serve immediately.

2.4 Plain rice

Ingredients

- White Rice

Steps

Bring 2 parts water to a boil in a pot. Throw in 1 part rice and cover with the lid. After a minute, stir it a bit and break up any clumps.

Note

Whether you add any salt depends on the kind of food you are having. If it's asian food or something saucy, I add none.

Add the lid, put the heat on minimum, and cook for around 10 minutes, or until there is no more water visible. Turn off the heat, and let it steam for at least 5 minutes with the lid on.

2.5 Quinoa

Ingredients

- Quinoa. I like the mixed color kind.

Steps

Bring 2 parts water to a boil in a pot, as well as a bit of salt. Throw in 1 part quinoa, stir well, then cover with the lid.

Cook on minimum for around 15 minutes, or until most of them pop open. Turn off the heat, fluff it with a fork, and let it steam for 10 minutes with the lid on.

2.6 Dry fried rice

Just white rice cooked the Portuguese way.

Ingredients

- White Rice
- Garlic
- Bay leaf

Steps

Chop garlic thinly and add it to a pot, frying in olive oil until fragrant. Add the rice and bay leaf. Fry in high heat for 3 minutes, stirring vigorously the whole time.

Add 2 parts water. Be careful, it will boil violently.

Add salt, and let it boil until ready, for 10 minutes or so, stirring occasionally. Take out the bay leaf before serving.

Notes

It's common to add some vegetables. Frozen peas about 3 minutes before done. Fine chopped carrots together with the rice. Chopped onion together with the garlic is also nice, but then you should skip frying the rice.

2.7 Whole grain rice

Aka brown rice. Healthier.

Ingredients

- Whole grain Rice

Steps

For better results, soak the rice beforehand for an hour. Bring a pot of water to a boil. Add some salt, but not as much as you would for pasta.

Pour in the rice, stir a bit, and let it boil it for 20 to 30 minutes. Taste for doneness. I usually like al dente. Drain the water, then let it steam off the heat for at least 10 minutes.

Note

The time to cook as well as whether soaking is necessary greatly depends on the brand of rice. Just taste it.

3 Deserts

3.1 Dango

Medium, Vegetarian

Source: Sudachi Japanese Recipes [8]

Ingredients

- Glutinous rice flour
- Sugar
- Silken tofu

And you should also get some skewer sticks. Some flavorings, optional:

- Black sesame seeds
- Matcha powder
- Strawberry powder

Steps

Form the dough with your hands. Approximately, use the same weight in flour as in tofu, and not a lot of sugar. For example, 200g tofu, 200g flour, 20g sugar. Adjust as needed depending on how wet the tofu is, it should be very soft but hold its shape well.

If you are adding any flavors, divide the dough in multiple parts.

For the sesame flavor, first toast the seeds on a dry frying pan, then crush or grind them. Use more than you think you need. Combine it well in the dough.

Form the dough into ~20g balls and boil them in water, careful to not let it stick to the bottom. When it floats, splash some cold water, then once it boils again it's ready.

Stick them on skewers.

You can make a glaze with soy sauce, water, sugar and potato starch, cooking until thick. I prefer to add red bean paste or some other jam.

4 Glossary

Tomato

Onion

White onion/spanish onion/purple onion, but not shallots or green onion

Garlic

Ginger

Eggplant

Potato

Carrot

Mushroom

Green beans

The whole pod with immature beans inside. I usually use this and flat beans interchangeably

Peas

Snow peas

Lettuce

Bok Choy

Leek

Did you know, in Portuguese this is called french garlic. I think it looks like a giant green onion.

Green Onion

Bigger than chives, smaller than leeks

Spinach

Cucumber

Chilli pepper

Spicy chillies

Bell Pepper

Sweet pepper

Jalapeño

Spicy south american pepper

Lemon

Tomato pulp

Essentially it's blended tomato that comes in a jar

Lime

Fish

Shrimp

Pork

Chicken

Beef

Canned tuna

Canned tuna, unflavoured. In olive oil > regular oil > natural

Tuna

Salmon

Bacon

Egg

Milk

Tofu

Rice

White rice, usually jasmine.

Pasta

Any kind of pasta, I usually use penne, spaghetti or linguini. It should be boiled in very salty water.

Soba

Buckwheat noodles

Shin Ramen

A packet of very spicy and very versatile instant noodles

Quinoa

Couscous

It's kind of like pasta, but actually it's semolina flour chunks.

Beans

Chickpeas

Lentils

Tapioca

Starch from the cassava plant

Sesame seeds

Matcha

Cilantro

Fresh coriander leaves

Parsley

Basil

Cheese

Parmesan

Gruyère

A cheese suitable for melty dishes

Cheddar

American cheese

Kimchi

Korean sour spicy cabbage

Nori

Sheets of dry seaweed

Coconut milk

The thick kind that comes in a carton or can

Olives

Avocado

Bread

Bread Crumbs

Store bought is very convenient

Flour

Sugar

Honey

Doubanjiang

(La doubanjiang) A fermented, spicy, red bean paste

Butter

Olive oil

Easy

Easy to make

Medium

Medium difficulty

Hard

Hard and time consuming to make

One pot

Only uses one pot

Leftovers

Good to eat as leftovers

Freezes

Good to freeze

Vegetarian

No meat, but may have eggs or other animal products

4-spice

French style 4-spice, usually pepper, nutmeg, cloves, and ginger, sometimes also cinnamon

Bay leaf

It's mysterious ingredient, but I swear it does something

Mirin

Japanese cooking wine

Dashi

Sometimes stock or as a dry extract, a Japanese fish flavour for stews and sauces

Kombu

A kind of seaweed used for its umami flavor

Soy Sauce

Vinegar

Curry cube mix

A premade seasoning cube, found in any asian store. The most popular is "Golden Curry".

Siracha

A ready to eat spicy sauce

Mayo

Mayonnaise

Star anise

Cinnamon

Sichuan pepper

It gives a numbing sensation

Fennel seeds

Nutmeg

al dente

Cooked, but firm when biting. Usually for pasta, cook for 1 minute less than the package instructions

5 References

References

- [1] Binging with Babish. Tacos - basics with babish. 2018. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zghe7SNmhOs> (visited on 2025-08-04).
- [2] Binging with Babish. Larb from spider-man: homecoming. 2019. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VweTeaGwiXQ> (visited on 2025-04-30).
- [3] Binging with Babish. Shakshuka - basics with babish. 2020. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SjCkW-oAFQ8> (visited on 2025-05-19).
- [4] Cooking with Dog. How to make agedashi tofu. 2010. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eS0unSDFhCA> (visited on 2025-05-07).
- [5] FutureCanoe. Upgraded instant noodle recipes. 2025. URL: https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SzNJ3v2_qFo (visited on 2025-05-13).
- [6] Silvana Tinelli. Como fazer feijoada branca. 2021. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=JpJ7jfPNhT0> (visited on 2025-04-30).
- [7] Souped Up Recipes. Running yolk chinese tea egg recipe - easy and delicious [茶叶蛋]. 2018. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=NNDyuZ0RsEs> (visited on 2025-05-20).
- [8] Sudachi Japanese Recipes. 30-minute hanami dango - perfect cherry blossom dumplings with tofu. 2021. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eoFQjnrA4w> (visited on 2025-05-16).
- [9] Taiji's kitchen. How to make onigiri (rice ball) ～おにぎり～. 2020. URL: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=FNAT3v5jssE> (visited on 2025-05-15).

Index

Non-alphabetical

4-spice, 49

A

al dente, 50

Avocado, 49

B

Bacon, 48

Basil, 48

Bay leaf, 49

Beans, 48

Beef, 47

Bell Pepper, 47

Bok Choy, 47

Bread, 49

Bread Crumbs, 49

Butter, 49

C

Canned tuna, 47

Carrot, 47

Cheddar, 48

Cheese, 48

Chicken, 47

Chickpeas, 48

Chilli pepper, 47

Cilantro, 48

Cinnamon, 50

Coconut milk, 48

Couscous, 48

Cucumber, 47

Curry cube mix, 49

D

Dashi, 49

Doubanjiang, 49

E

Easy, 49

Egg, 48

Eggplant, 47

F

Fennel seeds, 50

Fish, 47

Flour, 49

Freezes, 49

G

Garlic, 47

Ginger, 47

Green beans, 47

Green Onion, 47

Gruyère, 48

H

Hard, 49

Honey, 49

J

Jalapeño, 47

K

Kimchi, 48

Kombu, 49

L

Leek, 47

Leftovers, 49

Lemon, 47

Lentils, 48

Lettuce, 47

Lime, 47

M

Matcha, 48

Mayo, 50

Medium, 49

Milk, 48

Mirin, 49

Mushroom, 47

N

Nori, 48

Nutmeg, 50

O

Olive oil, 49

Olives, 49
One pot, 49
Onion, 47

P

Parmesan, 48
Parsley, 48
Pasta, 48
Peas, 47
Pork, 47
Potato, 47

Q

Quinoa, 48

R

Rice, 48

S

Salmon, 48
Sesame seeds, 48
Shin Ramen, 48
Shrimp, 47
Sichuan pepper, 50
Siracha, 50
Snow peas, 47
Soba, 48
Soy Sauce, 49
Spinach, 47
Star anise, 50
Sugar, 49

T

Tapioca, 48
Tofu, 48
Tomato, 47
Tomato pulp, 47
Tuna, 48

V

Vegetarian, 49
Vinegar, 49